DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 19-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Handel et al., here in after Handel (6,324,502).

As to claim 19, Handel teaches a method for enhancing a noisy speech signal by subtracting an estimated background noise from it, comprising the steps of:

determining the signal to noise ratio of a noisy speech signal (SNR) (Figs.2, 5, Col.7, lines 14-25);

estimating the power spectral density of the background noise (Fig.1, #22) for a plurality of frequency in a current frame using background noise buffered from the previous frame as well as current frame (Col.4, lines 28-50);

estimating the power spectral density of the noisy speech signal (#18); and subtracting the estimated background signal from the estimated noisy speech signal to suppress the noise (Fig.1, #30; equation 9, Col.4).

As to claim 20, according to Handel, the background noise estimate buffer (24) is updated in every frame (Col.4, lines 28-50).

As to claim 21, Handel teaches a VAD (#14) utilizing a signal to ratio for determining whether a frame is a noise frame or a noisy speech frame (Col.4, lines 30-50).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 25-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Handel.

With respect to claims 25-26, Official Notice is taken that determining noise floor/threshold based on the signal to ratio value is well known and a common practice in the art of speech processing and would have been obvious in Handels teaching to control the switch (16) according to the level of the background noise level.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-18 are allowed.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: these claims are allowed, because Handel doesn't teach calculating an over-subtraction parameter based on the signal to noise ratio including all the limitations as recited.

Claims 22-24 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
